To all my clients,

My 50th anniversary of practicing law is fast approaching. It's time for a change in my professional life and my home life. Just ask my wife who has been with me for 47 of those 50 years.

I have moved my Mexico, Maine office to Turner, Maine and will be occupying space at the Law Offices of Boothby Silver & Ricker, located at 22 Schoolhouse Hill Road, Turner, Maine. The mailing address is PO Box 155, Turner, ME 04282.

With this move, I anticipate scaling back on my hours but at the same time, I will continue being available at the same phone numbers, email and website as I have for the past 22 years. I will continue to meet clients and accept cases on a select basis. If I am not able to accept representation, I will continue my historic practice of referring people who need legal representation to trusted and competent counsel in whatever field of law the potential client may require. My practice will continue to focus on personal injury, criminal law, estate planning, wills and trusts.

Having actively practiced law as a trial attorney for nearly 50 years, I have a little black book of colleagues in Maine and around the United States who can handle any legal situation that might present itself. Whether it's corporate law, residential and commercial real estate, professional negligence, libel and slander or any other civil matters, I can steer you in the right direction.

I have conference rooms available in my Turner office and in Rumford for folks who can't travel to Turner.

If you need anything, just call or email me, leave a message and my staff will get back to you.

Regards,

/s/ Paul R. Dumas, Jr.
